INTRODUCTION

This booklet contains a compilation of demographic, social, economic, assessment, tax and budget data selected for special relevance to community planning. It has been divided into sections for easy reference--intercity comparisons, metropolitan area, citywide, ward, census tract and Advisory Neighborhood Commission areas. Many of the data draw on U. S. Census reports. Where later information is available from other sources, it is included.

The material has been useful to the Municipal Planning Office and is offered as a base document to support MPO's comprehensive plan work. It is hoped that it will be helpful to others in the continuing effort to improve the wellbeing of all our citizens. It is our intention to provide an annual revision of this publication.

POPULATION 1970 & 1973 OF THE 30 LARGEST CITIES IN THE UNITED STATES IN 1970

NOTE: Data for 1973 are not adjusted to allow for geographic changes of city boundaries since 1970, such as annexations. Such changes did occur in some cities.

1/ The 1973 estimate for D. C. given in the source cited below is 733,801. This has been replaced in the table by the official D. C. estimate for 1973 obtained by the MPO, Statistical Services Division, Demographic Unit.

(a) "Vacant land" is of two types. The first is truly vacant; there is no improvement on the land. The second is falsely vacant. This evolves from the method of assessing properties. When a structure straddles two or more properties, the assessor assigns the improvement to one property and considers the other(s) vacant. Thus, the falsely vacant property is not actually vacant. In FY 1969 the data bank could not distinguish these types. In 1975 they are as follows:

	Total Vacant Square Feet	Truly Vacant Square Feet	Falsely Vacant Square Feet	Vacancy Status Unknown Square Feet
Total	333,160,235	272,609,844	12,322,915	48,227,476

(b) There were 222,518 square feet of land in 1969, and 71,342 square feet of land in 1975 with unknown land use.

(c) Data in this table account for about 48 square miles. Total land area of D. C. including streets, alleys and other rights-of-ways is about 62 square miles. Total area of D. C. including water is about 67 square miles.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA "TRENDS ALERT"

INTRODUCTION

In Fall, 1974, the Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies conducted a household sample survey of Metropolitan Washington, called "Trends Alert."

No information on persons living in non-households, or "group quarters," was obtained. (Group quarters are any living quarters consisting of five or more persons not related to each other by blood or marriage. Examples are homes for the aged, mental hospitals, student dormitories, flop houses, convents, monasteries, etc.) In tables referring to the population, characteristics of group quarters persons were carried over from the 1970 census (about 41,000 persons), if known. If 1970 characteristics of persons in group quarters were not known, this was noted in the table footnotes. About 50 percent of the original household sample responded in D. C.

A table of sampling variability for calculating confidence intervals supplied by the Washington Center is included at the end of the tables.

1/ Data provided by BEE, OBMS and MPO.

2/ Estimated by MPO, Statistical Services Division, Demographic Unit.

3/ Sum of 1970 ANC counts is 754,700. The difference between this and the official census count of 756,510 is due to rounding and confidentiality suppression in the 1970 census block statistics bulletin.

4/ Census tract 73.1 and parts of 73.8 and 74.1 are not presently in any ANC.

NOTE: City population was estimated by color. However, breakdown by color of each institutional tract was not available. For this reason, and also because some tracts had less than 100 persons of one or the other color, tract estimates will not add to city estimate within color.

1/ Less than 100 persons
2/ Institutional census tract
3/ Bolling Air Force Base: Bulk of population is associated with armed forces but is in households, therefore it is not considered an institutional tract.

* Total of census tracts will differ slightly from the city total due to rounding.
